Australia's Children

Approaching the Nineties
Some Vital Facts and Figures

Published by
The Children's Bureau of Australia Inc.

Compiled by Barbara Szwarc

This booklet provides some vital information about various aspects concerning children and families in Australia. It covers such critical areas as Child Abuse, Young Refugees, Child Accidents, Teenage Runaways, Homelessness and Children with Disabilities.

For those concerned with the welfare of children, it is intended that it will serve as a useful resource and as a valuable basis from which to advocate for improved services for children.

In this issue

In Whose 'Best Interests'? Some Mothers' Experiences of Child Welfare Interventions..... 4

JAN MASON

Jan reports on some research conducted in south west Sydney with assistance from McArthur Institute students. It tables the feelings of powerlessness and other responses of some mothers to protective intervention. It demands attention to processes which affect interests of women and children.

A Family Support Agency Protocol with Child Protection Services 7

WENDY O'BRIEN

In this prevention program, which gives priority to families whose children are at risk of being placed in state care, clients, agency staff and protective services have developed a protocol which attempts to honestly handle the risks and relationships.

Diversity and Choice: The Strengths of Parent Education in Victoria 10

JILLIAN RODD and ANNETTE HOLLAND

This article describes and explores the various approaches apparent in the field of parent education in Victoria and provides a perspective for reflecting on current practice.

Sterilisation of the Apparently Incapable — Emergency or Epidemic? 12

FRANK BATES

Two recent Australian court decisions which permitted the sterilisation of two young women with severe intellectual disability are examined in detail. They show quite different lines of judicial reasoning applied to similar cases with similar results. The judgments canvass many of the central policy issues in this difficult moral territory.

AUSTRALIAN CHILD AND FAMILY
WELFARE is the quarterly journal of the Childrens Bureau of Australia

The Bureau and its publications committees seek to provide in the journal an opportunity for providers to report on their work. It is also a forum where those concerned with the welfare of families and children might share their viewpoints with others. The views expressed therefore are not necessarily the views of the Bureau, the publications committee or the editor.

Citation of material should carry the name and issue of the journal. Permission to reproduce articles should be sought from the author.
