

WORLDVIEW

- THE HOLOCAUST & THE SURVIVAL OF TRAGEDY SAMUEL HUX
- ROMATO PRISON: TALE OF A MASSACRE ARMANDO F. VALLADARES
- HAUSDAYAN JOURNAL HOWARD HANDELMAN
- HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE AMERICAS ALEJANDRO ORFILA
- CHINA & THE FUTURE OF TIBET HIS HOLINESS THE DALAI LAMA
- REFLECTIONS OF AN AFRICAN SELF-EXILE TAFATAONA P. MAHOSO
- FACE VI AT EIGHTY JAMES V. SCHALL
- THE ETHICS OF NUCLEAR ENERGY THOMAS SIEGER DERR
- * PAUL RAMSEY, HENRY McDONALD, WALTER C. CLEMENS, JR., DAVID H. SMITH,
DAVID LITTLE, JUSTUS D. DOENECKE, KEVIN CAHILL, WILLIAM NOVAK,
RICHARD JOHN NEUHAUS

COMING

Argentina has one of the largest, and oldest, Jewish communities in the world. Today, however, anti-Semitism has revived in various forms, posing new challenges to old strategies of survival and influence. Agostino Bono illuminates the history and present dilemmas of a community that is holding on against all odds to the dream of a pluralistic society.

Now that the Reverend Moon's Korean sect is no longer making headlines (although still making some converts), Paul Ramsey looks back on what it meant and may still mean for the future of religion in American culture.

Fascism is a term casually used but little understood. In two forthcoming articles, Anthony Joes and Dale Vree give the term clearer definition and point out some of its surprising appearances in American political life.

Because he was a gung-ho Maoist, David Erdal wanted to do his bit for the revolution. Speaking fluent Chinese, he worked in China for almost two years as a teacher of would-be English teachers. His inside account of daily life in today's China will be an eye-opener for readers who hold the most diverse views on Maoism.

FOUNDED IN 1914 BY ANDREW CARNEGIE