READING IMAGES

The Grammar of Visual Design

Gunther Kress,
University of London,
and Theo Van Leeuwen,
London College of Printing

Reading Images provides the first systematic and comprehensive account of the grammar of visual design. Drawing on an enormous range of examples Kress and Leeuwen examine the ways in which images communicate meaning.

LINGUISTIC ECOLOGY

Language Change and Linguistic Imperialism in the Pacific Regions

Peter Mühlhäusler, University of Adelaide

In this topical study of the large scale loss of human language, Mühlhäusler examines the transformation of the Pacific language region. He focuses on cultural and historical forces to explain such loss.

ENGLISH

History, Diversity and Change

Edited by David Graddol and Joan Swann, both at The Open University and Dick Leith, freelance historical linguist

The emphasis in this book is on the diversity of language throughout its history and the changing social meanings of different varieties of English.

'... promises to be an up-to-date and lively introduction ... a very useable text for courses in English Language, English Studies and Teacher Education.'

Rob Pope, Oxford Brookes University

USING ENGLISH

From Conversation to Canon

Edited by Janet Maybin and Neil Mercer, both at The Open University

Highly interdisciplinary in approach, Using English provides a coherent introduction to the ways in which language is shaped and used in practice.

'... we run a Language and Literature degree and for students on this degree (this book) would be highly relevant.'

Roz Ivanic, Lancaster University

Dictionary of Phonetics and Phonology

R.L. Trask, University of Sussex

'... includes clear and explanatory definitions of close to 2000 phonetic and phonological terms.'

Victoria Fromkin, UCLA

'... ought to be on the bookshelf of everyone who reads in these areas. Just reading through the pages of this dictionary is small education in itself.'

John Goldsmith, University of Chicago

HIGHLIGHTS IN LINGUISTICS

The Minimalist Program

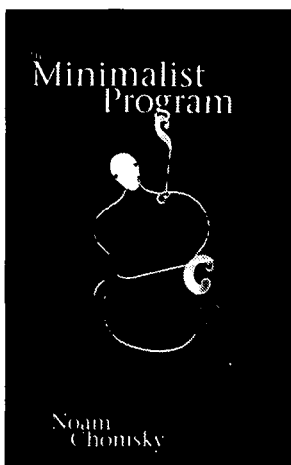

NOAM CHOMSKY

Four essays, including one previously unpublished piece, which formulate and develop the minimalist approach to linguistic theory. Building on the theory of principles and parameters, the minimalist framework takes Universal Grammar as providing a unique computational system, with derivations driven by morphological properties to which the syntactic variation of languages is also restricted.

Lexico-Logical Form

A Radically Minimalist Theory

MICHAEL BRODY

Brody discusses aspects of a radically minimalist, non-derivational approach to syntax in which both the central conceptual systems and the lexicon have direct access to the single syntactic representation, called Lexico-Logical Form.

£33.95 cloth 0-262-02390-3

The Generative Lexicon

JAMES PUSTEJOVSKY

Outlines a novel and exciting theory of lexical semantics that addresses the problem of the "multiplicity of word meaning". The first formally elaborated theory of a generative approach to word meaning, it lays foundations for an implemented computational treatment of word meaning that connects explicitly to a compositional semantics.

A Bradford Book

£29.50 cloth 0-262-16158-3 312pp.

Construal

LYN FRAZIER AND CHARLES CLIFTON, JR.

Presents a new theory of sentence processing that allows a limited type of underspecification in the syntactic analysis of sentences. The authors extend the theory of 'parsing' into new and previously unexplored domains and greatly advance the potential for insights into how meaning is both made and understood.

FROM THE MIT PRESS

Knowledge of Meaning

An Introduction to Semantic Theory
RICHARD LARSON AND GABRIEL SEGAL

Provides the only introduction to truth-theoretic semantics for natural languages, fully integrating semantic theory into the modern Chomskyan program in linguistic theory and connecting linguistic semantics to research elsewhere in cognitive psychology and philosophy.

A Bradford Book

£19.95 paper 0-262-62100-2 368pp.

£67.95 cloth 0-262-12193-X

Representing Time in Natural Language

The Dynamic Interpretation of Tense and Aspect

ALICE G.B. TER MEULEN

Offers a systematic and detailed account of how we use temporal information contained in a text or in discourse to reason about the flow of time.

A Bradford Book

£18.95 cloth 0-262-20099-6 156pp. (23 illus.)

Language in Action

Categories, Lambdas, and Dynamic Logic
JOHAN VAN BENTHEM

Demonstrates the viability of mathematical research into the foundations of categorial grammar, a topic at the border between logic and linguistics. A new introduction to this paperback edition updates the open research problems and records relevant results through pointers to the literature.

£25.50 paper 0-262-72024-8 375pp.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Editorial address Professor Ian Roberts and Dr Robert D. Borsley, The Editors, Linguistics Department, School of English and Linguistics, University of Wales, Bangor, Gwynedd LL57 2DG, UK. (IR: I.G.Roberts@bangor.ac.uk RDB: R.D.Borsley@bangor.ac.uk).

Address for books for review and book reviews Dr Maggie Tallerman, Review Editor, Department of Linguistics and English Language, University of Durham, Elvet Riverside, Durham DH1 3JT, UK. (maggie.tallerman@durham.ac.uk).

Policy The Journal of Linguistics is concerned with all branches of linguistics (including phonetics). Preference is given to articles which make a substantial contribution to theoretical linguistics. Contributions are welcomed from linguists in all countries, and not merely from members of the Linguistics Association of Great Britain. The normal language of publication is English.

Preparation of manuscripts Contributors should submit three copies of their manuscript. Submitted papers will normally be read by two referees. The name(s) of the author(s) should not appear on the paper itself and, as far as possible, the author(s) should not be identifiable from the references in the text or the acknowledgements. Details of name(s), affiliation(s) and full postal and e-mail address(es), should be submitted on a separate sheet. Fax and telephone numbers should also be included.

The manuscript of an article should be accompanied by an abstract of about 100 words summarizing the content. The abstract will appear in the published version of a paper.

Manuscripts should be submitted on A4 paper (US 11" × 8½") with margins of at least 4cms (1½") on all four sides of each sheet. They may be single-spaced and double-sided. However, the manuscripts of papers accepted for publication must be fully double-spaced and single-sided, with the type no smaller than 12 points (12pt) throughout the manuscript. Any footnotes must be listed at the end of the manuscript and not at the bottom of individual pages. One copy of the final version should be submitted.

A copy of the full set of Notes for Contributors is available from Dr Ewa Jaworska, Editorial Assistant, address as for the Editors (E.Jaworska@bangor.ac.uk).

Proofs First proofs only of articles, notes and discussion, review articles and book reviews, but not shorter notices, will be sent with the edited manuscript to the (first-named) author, who will be expected to correct them and return to their Editors, within three days of receipt.

Offprints 50 offprints will be supplied free of charge to authors of articles, notes and discussion and review articles. 25 offprints will be supplied free of charge to authors of book reviews and shorter notices. Further offprints may be purchased if they are ordered at proof stage.

THE LINGUISTICS ASSOCIATION OF GREAT BRITAIN

The Linguistics Association of Great Britain was founded in 1959 to promote the study of linguistics and to provide for its members both a forum for discussion and facilities for cooperation in furtherance of their interest in linguistics. The Association holds annual spring and autumn meetings, at which original papers are presented in plenary sessions and in workshops devoted to special interests.

Persons interested in linguistics are eligible for election as members, subject to the approval of the Committee. Subscribing members may receive the Journal of Linguistics at a substantial discount. Application forms for membership may be obtained from the Membership Secretary, address as below.
