The theme of the first edition of the new Journal of the Economic Society of Tanzania is Self-Reliance, a topic of great importance to the developing world and a major policy guideline in Tanzania. The second edition of the semiannual publication will have as its theme Tanzania's Second Five Year Plan and should be ready by the fourth quarter of the year.

The Economic Society of Tanzania is a nonprofit organization established to further discussion and debate on economic affairs in Tanzania and draws its membership from a broad cross section of the community. Overseas subscribers should send the equivalent of five Tanzania shillings plus two shillings and fifty cents postage for each copy. Correspondence and contributions should be addressed to the Editor, Mr. George Mbowe, P. O. Box 234, Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.

A MAJOR SURVEY of AFRICAN RESEARCH

RESEARCH IN RURAL AFRICA

Edited by Norman N. Miller, Associate Professor of African Studies and Political Science, Michigan State University

RESEARCH IN RURAL AFRICA includes thirty critical essays, six bibliographies, research abstracts of 250 projects, and a survey of new periodicals. The volume is a summary of research in the fields that touch the African rural areas most directly. Research priorities are discussed, trends noted, and literature critically reviewed.

"This symposium . . . is also an attempt to focus attention on the rural sector as the most commanding research priority in the new nations . . . With 85-90% of the African peoples living in the rural areas, we now find ourselves in a position of knowing very little about this vast majority. The implications are sobering." (p. 13)

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF AFRICAN DRESS

African Dress: A Select and Annotated Bibliography of Sub-Saharan Countries has been prepared by Dr. Joanne B. Eicher, associate professor of Human Environment and Design in the College of Human Ecology at Michigan State University. This bibliography is to be of use in the sociocultural analysis of dress and gives information about an area of the world often overlooked by historians of costume as well as others interested in the significance of dress.

The bibliography includes books and journal articles written by anthropologists, historians, explorers, missionaries, and journalists. A brief introduction indicates the many implications in the study of African dress, including the current interest in Afro styles in the United States today. Publications in foreign languages are not included. The 1,025 entries are classified according to region or country within Africa. Brief annotations are included for books and articles whose titles do not indicate the contents applicable to dress. In addition, page numbers have been included to facilitate use as references to dress and ornaments that are often neglected in indexes.

Copies of the bibliography may be ordered for $4.00 each, postpaid from Communications concerning membership in the African Studies Association should be addressed to the Executive Secretary, African Studies Association, 218 Shiffman Center, Brandeis University, Waltham, Massachusetts 02154. Annual membership subscription rates are as follows: $18.00 for individual members, $12.00 (for a limit of three years) for members who are students.

Subscription correspondence and change of address notice should be sent to the African Studies Association, 218 Shiffman Center, Brandeis University, Waltham, Massachusetts 02154. Institutional subscription rates are $25.00 per year. Allow four weeks for change of address. Subscribers are requested to notify their local postmaster and the Association in advance of change, giving both old and new addresses. In the United States please include ZIP code.

Information for contributors to the Review: Contributions are welcome whether or not the author is a member of the Association. Manuscripts should be typed on one side of sheet only, double-spaced, and with ample margins for editorial marking. The original and, if possible, one carbon copy should be submitted. Authors are advised to include footnote material in the text wherever possible. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively throughout the article but should not include bibliographical references. These should be incorporated within the text in parentheses with the author's last name, date of publication, and specific pages. An end bibliography with entries arranged by authors' last names should list the complete references and inclusive pages for articles. Articles may be illustrated with line drawings and maps, classified as figures, to be submitted in final form (except for size). Tables should be carefully prepared and should replace text, not duplicate it.

Book reviews, to be sent to the Book Review Editor, carry no footnotes and "References Cited" but incorporate bibliographical references and notes within the text. Please include complete information on the reviewed book (title, sub-title, author, publisher, place and date of publication, number of pages and plates, addenda, price). Short papers (up to 12 manuscript pages) may be submitted for the Brief Communications section. For details of form and style, consult a recent Review. Contributors of articles receive ten reprints with covers.

All editorial correspondence and manuscripts, with the exception of book reviews, should be sent to John P. Henderson, African Studies Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan 48823. Manuscripts should be received no later than January 15, June 15, and September 15 respectively.

THE AFRICAN EXPERIENCE

edited by
John N. Paden
and
Edward W. Soja

A multi-volume set of teaching materials designed for university courses in African Studies.

VOLUME I: ESSAYS

This volume of thirty-one original essays presents a forward-looking, interdisciplinary introduction to African studies. The individual essays, each prepared by a well-known scholar, discuss current research and its frontiers and develop important themes within specific areas of study. By integrating these specialized approaches into the broader conceptual framework of the volume, the authors and editors demonstrate significant linkages among the different disciplines, synthesize contemporary thought, and build collectively toward a balanced understanding of the African experience.

$15.00 cloth $6.50 paper. 655 pages

VOLUME II: SYLLABUS

The 100 modules in this book constitute a comprehensive interdisciplinary approach to the teaching of African studies, providing an integrated overview of African economic, political, and social patterns in the past and in the present. The book is designed to aid the teacher in preparing lectures for a one-year introductory course in African studies. Each module—a “mini-essay” or topic summary—presents a short interpretive statement briefly summarizing the central concepts, themes, and events relevant to an understanding of a specific aspect of the African experience.

$14.00 cloth $4.95 paper 438 pages

VOLUME IIIA: BIBLIOGRAPHY

This work is an up-to-date (through 1970) computerized bibliography of 3,800 selected references, annotated and arranged to parallel the 100 modules in the Syllabus, plus a country-by-country listing of case studies and an alphabetical author index.

$25.00 1103 pages

VOLUME IIIB: GUIDE TO RESOURCES

This work includes six valuable bibliographic essays dealing with reference sources for African studies, Africana journals and newspapers, audio-visual aids, developments in African publishing, computers and bibliographies, and African-language publications.
