Chile

To the Editors: Feature Associates, a California-based newspaper syndicate, urges others to join it in protesting the Chilean Government's recent decision to suspend for two months the weekly newsmagazine Hoy, which would have carried Feature Associates syndicated column, "Human Rights by Theodore Jacqueney." [Jacqueney is an associate editor of Worldview—Ed.]

Published by the Christian Democratic party of Chile, Hoy has been the only opposition publication permitted to publish by the military regime headed by General Augusto Pinochet. Hoy has asked Chilean courts to reverse the suspension. Because the once-independent Chilean judiciary now functions under guidance and instructions from the military authorities, it is hoped that outside publicity can persuade the Pinochet government to permit Hoy to resume publication and restore the internal liberalization process that, until Hoy's closing, Western press observers had felt was under way this year.

Hoy's recent interviews with exiled Chilean political leaders, rather than its interest in publishing Ted Jacqueney's "Human Rights" column, are the likely reasons for its recent punishment. Feature Associates desires strongly to retain this special Chilean outlet for this particular column, which deals with reports and interviews on international human rights concerns that they are unlikely to receive elsewhere in their government-controlled press.

EVERY YEAR UNITEDWAY VOLUNTEERS WORK TIME AND A HALF SO YOU'RE NOT BOTHERED TIME AND AGAIN.

Once a year—and only once—United Way raises money to support really needed human services.

And once is enough, thanks to the outstanding efforts of the dedicated people who work without pay for United Way each year. Because one efficiently run campaign not only minimizes fund-raising costs and volunteer time devoted to fund-raising. It also reduces the number of times you're contacted each year.

United Way's continued success year after year proves a very basic point. When you ask the American people for help, they respond.

Thanks to you, it works. For all of us. United Way

WORLDVIEW

Statement of Purpose

The purpose of Worldview is to place public policies, particularly in international affairs, under close ethical scrutiny. The Council on Religion and International Affairs (CRIA), which sponsors the journal, was founded in 1914 by religious and civic leaders brought together by Andrew Carnegie. It was mandated to work toward ending the barbarity of war, to encourage international cooperation, and to promote justice. CRIA is independent and non-sectarian. Worldview is an important part of CRIA's wide-ranging program in pursuit of these goals.

Worldview is open to diverse viewpoints and encourages dialogue and debate on issues of public significance. It is edited in the belief that large political questions cannot be considered adequately apart from ethical and religious reflection. The opinions expressed in Worldview do not necessarily reflect the positions of CRIA. Through Worldview CRIA aims to advance the national and international exchange without which our understanding will be dangerously limited.
