Call for Submissions: The History of Education Society Prize

The History of Education Society awards a prize of $750 biennially to the author of an article judged to be the most distinguished scholarly essay in educational history—broadly defined to cover a wide range of educational and cultural institutions inside and outside the United States (this includes work on schools and universities, teachers, students, and families)—published in any journal over the previous two-year period.

The deadline for submissions is May 1, 2012.

Submissions should be emailed (in Microsoft Word) to anelson@education. wisc.edu.

Manuscripts should adhere to The Chicago Manual of Style, should be double-spaced in 12-point Times New Roman font, and should not exceed 35 pages in length, including notes. The author's name should appear only on the cover page. For other instructions, see the History of Education Quarterly author guidelines.

Committee Members: Adam Nelson (chair, University of Wisconsin-Madison), Hilary Moss (Amherst College), and Michelle Purdy (Michigan State University).

Direct any questions to:

Adam Nelson, Professor Educational Policty Studies and History University of Wisconsin-Madison anelson@education.wisc.edu

2012 Claude A. Eggertsen Dissertation Prize History of Education Society

The History of Education Society is accepting submissions for the Claude A. Eggertsen Prize for the dissertation judged to be most outstanding in the field of history of education. This includes work on schooling and educational institutions more broadly, and the dissertation may have a domestic or international focus. The next award will be presented at the 2012 meeting of the History of Education Society. The prize carries an award of $1,000 for the winner. Self-nominations are welcome. Qualified applicants must have completed the dissertation and graduated during the calendar year 2011. The postmark deadline for entries is April 20, 2012. Entrants should send one hard copy of the complete dissertation to each of the three prize committee members:

The Educational Legacy of Woodrow Wilson

From College to Nation Edited by James Axtell

$45.00 | CLOTH

"The Educational Legacy of Woodrow Wilson succeeds in opening up an important and intriguing phase of Wilson's life in ways that have not been done before. The essays in this volume are creative, elegantly conceived and unusually thoughtprovoking."

-Thomas G. Dyer, University of Georgia

"James Axtell's new volume offers valuable insights into Wilson's role both at Princeton and more generally in American higher education, as well as his style of political leadership. This is an unusually cohesive series of essays that make a significant contribution to our understanding of Wilson." -Kendrick Clements, University of South Carolina, author of Woodrow Wilson: World Statesman

Light and Liberty

Thomas Jefferson and the Power of Knowledge Edited by Robert M. S. McDonald

$40.00 | CLOTH | JEFFERSONIAN AMERICA

"Light and Liberty artfully brings together, in a single volume, fresh perspectives on many of Jefferson's Enlightenment ideas and experiences that nourished his belief that a free people, properly informed, could govern themselves.

-Jennings Wagoner, University of Virginia, author of Jefferson and Education

"This wide-ranging anthology provides fresh evidence of Jefferson's artistic and political genius. With essays on civilian and military education, public architecture, and art, the collection offers a new slant on this most brilliant of men."—Jean M. Yarbrough, Bowdoin College, editor of The Essential Jefferson
