Reading the Past

Ancient Writing from Cuneiform to the Alphabet

Introduced by J. T. HOOKER

Six titles from the popular Reading the Past series have been drawn together to form a comprehensive introduction to the systems of writing used in the ancient world. Illustrated with examples of the scripts and the objects on which they survive, this is an essential source for anyone interested in the story of writing and decipherment.

Near Eastern Seals

DOMINIQUE COLLON

New in paperback—A rich source of pictorial information about the Ancient Near East comes to us in the form of miniature reliefs, created from the impressions made in clay by tiny engraved stone seals. In this first comprehensive introduction to pre-Islamic Near Eastern seals, Collon discusses cylinder seals as well as stamp seals, the earliest dating from the fifth millennium B.C.

Interpreting the Past, 2

The Small Towns of Roman Britain

BARRY BURNHAM & JOHN WACHER

This book surveys a wide range of Roman town sites, answering many questions about their character and the archaeological problems they raise. The authors have organized the information in a manner that is both useful to scholars and stimulating to history buffs or walkers interested in touring these sites. Each site is illustrated with a site plan, and many aerial photographs are provided.

The Archaeology of the Roman Economy

KEVIN GREENE

New in paperback—“The book is very well illustrated, the bibliography is extensive and up-to-date; Greene’s discussion is a sympathetic and largely jargon-free exposition of what the ‘new archaeology’ has achieved.”

Touchstones.

Archaeomagnetic Dating

Jeffrey L. Eighmy & Robert S. Sternberg, eds.

Sixteen original papers discuss the geophysical underpinnings of archaeomagnetism; general methodological problems associated with present archaeomagnetic studies, such as sample collection, data measurement and analysis, and experimental control; and advances in experimental archaeology. Case histories consider applications of the technique in New World fieldwork. $60.00.

The Origin and Development of the Pueblo Katsina Cult

E. Charles Adams

Traces the katsina's origins to the upper Little Colorado River Valley at the end of the thirteenth century, thereby challenging the popular notion that katsina worship originated in Mesoamerica. Adams argues that the katsina cult was integrated into Puebloan culture as a bonding mechanism for expanding communities and only later took on its rain-oriented ceremonial aspects. $35.00.

Ceramic Ethnoarchaeology

William A. Longacre, ed.

Drawing on projects undertaken around the world—the Philippines, East Africa, Mesoamerica, India—in both traditional and complex societies, the contributors focus on identifying social and behavioral sources of ceramic variation to show how analogical reasoning is fundamental to archaeological interpretation. $50.00.

Chimalpahin and the Kingdoms of Chalco

Susan Schroeder

Chimalpahin's history of Precolumbian Mexico—the most comprehensive extant Nahuatl work by a known author—is here synthesized within the context of its author's life to provide a key to interpreting the sociopolitical reality he depicts. Through an analysis of Nahuatl terminology, Schroeder reconstructs Chalco political and social units as Chimalpahin saw them. $40.00.

Archaeological Method and Theory, Volume 3

Michael B. Schiffer, ed.

Contents: Craft Specialization: Issues in Defining, Documenting, and Explaining the Organization of Production . . . The Study of Technological Organization . . . Water Management Adaptation in Non-industrial Complex Societies: An Archaeological Perspective . . . Structure Abandonment in Villages . . . The Analytical Engine: Computer Simulation and Archaeological Research . . . Normative Thinking and Shell-bearing Sites. $35.00.

Prehistoric Households at Turkey Creek, Arizona

Julie C. Lowell

The Anthropological Papers, No. 54. Excavations at this 335-room, thirteenth-century ruin provide an opportunity for understanding the social use of space. By analyzing the place of the household in the structure of the village, Lowell develops a methodology for determining the implications of the growth, functioning, and abandonment of a prehistoric site. $21.95.

57th ANNUAL MEETING
SOCIETY FOR AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY

The Pittsburgh Hilton & Towers
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
Wednesday, April 8–Sunday, April 12, 1992

Program Committee Chair: Gary M. Feinman
Department of Anthropology
University of Wisconsin
Madison, WI 53706

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

The privilege of participating in the annual meeting as a presenter, organizer, chair, or discussant is restricted to paid-up members. However, representatives of other disciplines may request a waiver of the membership requirement.

Society policy states that a person may not be the first author of more than one paper, although that person may, at the same meeting, chair a session, serve as junior author of a paper presented by someone else, or serve as a discussant. However, no paper may have more than three authors listed, and no individual may have more than three roles (author, organizer, chair, or discussant) in the meeting.

Complete symposia proposals (with abstracts of papers), abstracts of contributed papers, abstracts of research reports, and abstracts for poster sessions must reach the SAA Office no later than September 23, 1991. All proposals and abstracts must be submitted on appropriate SAA forms, which are mailed to all SAA members with the ballot. Please submit all materials in English.

In the case of coauthorship of papers, only the senior author should submit a Participant Information Form, containing the information on all of the associated authors. The Participant Information Form is in two parts: Page one (Submission Information) and page two (Short Abstract Information). Copies of the Participant Information Form must be submitted by all participants, including symposia organizers, chairs, and discussants, as well as all senior authors of symposia papers, contributed papers, research reports, and posters.

Because it is no longer possible to accommodate all individuals wishing to make oral presentations at the annual meeting, the program committee will evaluate each submission for professionalism, timeliness of receipt, substance of contribution, and redundancy with other submissions. Poster sessions are especially encouraged and are particularly effective for presentations involving mapping, remote sensing, and various quantitative methods. The program committee may request that individual papers or entire symposia be converted to poster format. Symposia organizers and first authors of presentations not in symposia will be notified of the program committee's decision to accept or decline the submission by January 15, 1992. Abstracts of all papers, research reports, and posters accepted for presentation will be published in a separate Abstracts volume.

SYMPOSIA—A symposium consists of a group of papers on a common theme. Symposia are limited to four (4) hours or less. The symposium topic and the individual papers within it will be reviewed. Changes, such as consolidation of two symposia or changes in the individual papers, may be recommended. Symposia organizers should contact the program chair no later than September 1, 1991, in order that the Guidelines for Symposium Organizers and a special symposium form can be sent to them. Complete symposia proposals must be submitted as a package to the SAA Office by the symposium organizer(s) and must be received by September 23, 1991.

The package must include three (3) copies of the Symposium Proposal Form and one (1) copy of the Participant Information Form for each senior author, discussant, chair, and organizer (whether or not the organizer is chairing the symposium). The package also must include the registration form and fee.

CONTRIBUTED PAPERS (20 minutes)—Contributed papers are distinguished from Research Reports in that they generalize, synthesize, or compare and are addressed to problems of theory, method, culture history, or culture process. Contributed papers must follow the same format as the symposia papers, and each proposed presentation must include one (1) copy of the Submission Information Form and three (3) copies of the Short Abstract Form. Registration form and fee must be included.

RESEARCH REPORTS (10 minutes)—A research report is a presentation that describes the results of a recent field or laboratory research project. Each proposed presentation must include one (1) copy of the Submission Information Form and three (3) copies of the Short Abstract Form. Registration form and fee must be included.

POSTER SESSIONS—The poster session is particularly appropriate for research results that can be described graphically. Poster sessions will be listed in the program and will be displayed in prominent locations. Each proposed presentation must include one (1) copy of the Submission Information Form and three (3) copies of the Short Abstract Form. Registration form and fee must be included.

REGISTRATION FEES—All presenters, chairs, and discussants are required to pay the established registration fee for the annual meeting; registration form and fee must accompany all proposals. Meeting-registration fees will be refunded upon written request for any paper that is declined.

ABSTRACTS will be published as a separate volume and will not be included in the registration fee. Participants who wish to receive a copy of the Abstracts when they pick up their badge at the meeting should order and prepay for it on their registration form.
