Selfless Persons

Imagery and Thought in Theravada Buddhism

STEVEN COLLINS

This book seeks to explain carefully and sympathetically the Buddhist doctrine of anatta ('not-self'), which denies the existence of any self, soul or enduring essence in man.

'A rare work . . . A valuable addition to the corpus of Buddhist commentary which the scholar of Buddhism or religious history would be unwise to ignore.'

Understanding Jesus Today

A new series of clear, concise, and stimulating guides which summarise the most recent evidence about Jesus' life and teaching.

The World of Jesus

First Century Judaism in Crisis

JOHN RICHES

After examining the social, economic, political, and cultural context of first century Judaism, John Riches argues that Jesus was deeply committed to the values of the Jewish tradition even while he proposed radical change which he believed would bring renewal.

Jesus and the Future

DAVID TIEDE

Jesus' statements about the future provoked conflict among his own people and reprisals from the Romans, and they remain controversial today. This book challenges readers to understand Jesus' prophecies from the perspective of the historical realities he addressed.

Jesus as Teacher

PHEME PERKINS

Comparing Jesus with other teachers of his day (philosophers, prophets, interpreters of law, and visionaries), PHEME Perkins argues that Jesus was a charismatic teacher who addressed his message to all people, not just to elite groups.

What Can We Know About Jesus?

HOWARD CLARK KEE

This book analyses a wide range of evidence about Jesus and argues that in spite of the broad range of sources there is a convergence of evidence about Jesus' activities and his message.

GOSPEL FICTIONS

by Randel Helms

According to this provocative book, the four Gospels of the New Testament are fictional narratives, composed as the culmination of an extensive literary and oral tradition—idealistic writings produced to serve a theological vision. The most familiar and powerful of these fictions are analyzed as literature: the stories of Christ's birth, his agony in the Garden of Gethsemane, his betrayal by Judas, his crucifixion, death, and resurrection. Scholarly yet accessible, this book reveals the Gospels as works of literary art—contrived, creative interpretations of doctrine and literary precedent that have become the supreme fictions of our culture.

Randel Helms, a noted biblical scholar, is professor of English at Arizona State University.

"This book represents scholarship well communicated."

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. Contributions and books for review should be sent to the Editors designate, Mr Peter Byrne and Professor Keith Ward at Department of Theology and Religious Studies, King's College London, Strand, London WC2R 2LS.
2. Articles submitted to the journal should in general be between 5,000 and 10,000 words long, though articles outside these limits will be acceptable if there is some good reason for their exceptional length or brevity. Articles in two or more parts may occasionally be accepted provided each part is independently intelligible. They should normally be in English.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing, preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. The typescript should be prepared to accord as closely as possible with the typographical conventions of the journal.
5. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered in one sequence throughout the article, and should preferably be typed in double spacing at the end of the article.
6. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
7. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within ten days of receiving them.
8. Correction should be kept to an absolute minimum. It should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorises otherwise.
9. All contributors of articles receive 50 free offprints. Reviewers will receive five or more offprints of their reviews.
10. If rejected manuscripts are to be returned, stamps or international coupons should be sent to cover postage, but it would normally be simpler just to retain a copy.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
