The Presidency of George W. Bush

A First Historical Assessment
Edited by Julian E. Zelizer

“This impressive collection features brilliant essays by some of America’s best historians on the presidency of George W. Bush. It’s all here—from the Bush v. Gore Supreme Court decision that sealed Bush’s first-term victory to the stunning financial crisis that closed his tenure in office.”
—Eric M. Patashnik, author of Reforms at Risk

Cloth $75.00 978-0-691-13485-7

Thinking about Leadership

Nannerl O. Keohane

“Thinking about Leadership is replete with important, telling, and original insights and information. The book addresses key questions about leadership that, while not necessarily new, need to be posed, over and over again. Nannerl Keohane does not know how to write a bad sentence or make an uninteresting point.”
—Barbara Kellerman, author of Bad Leadership

Cloth $27.95 978-0-691-14207-4

Who Are the Criminals?

The Politics of Crime Policy from the Age of Roosevelt to the Age of Reagan

John Hagan

“John Hagan shows that the stories of street crime and white-collar crime are not separate, but interwoven. He also closely ties together the histories of politics, policymaking, criminal justice practice, and criminological thought. This book could only have been written by someone with the expertise that Hagan has amassed over many decades of intense and extremely productive research.”
—Joachim J. Savelsberg, University of Minnesota

Cloth $29.95 978-0-691-14838-0

The Diffusion of Military Power

Causes and Consequences for International Politics

Michael C. Horowitz

“This book makes an important contribution to the scholarship on military diffusion and international power. It will be of much interest to scholars of international security, strategic studies, and military affairs. The book’s greatest theoretical contribution is its discussion of the systemic consequences of diffusion.”
—Emily Goldman, United States Central Command

Hard Line

The Republican Party and U.S. Foreign Policy since World War II
Colin Dueck

“This book provides an excellent overview of the changes in conservative thinking on foreign policy by looking at the leading figures in each successive era, from Robert Taft to George W. Bush. The prose flows beautifully, and Dueck is admirably objective in his assessments of these individuals.”
—James M. Goldgeier, George Washington University

The Clash of Ideas in World Politics

Transnational Networks, States, and Regime Change, 1510–2010

John M. Owen IV

“We were already in debt to John Owen for his excellent, nuanced analysis of the notion that democracies do not fight each other. This volume is far more ambitious and proves that—as in world politics itself—ideas and historical understanding are more important than accumulations of numbers.”

Religion and Democracy in the United States

Danger or Opportunity?

Edited by Alan Wolfe & Ira Katznelson

Why People Cooperate

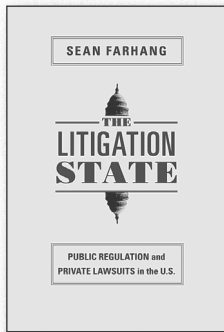

The Role of Social Motivations

Tom R. Tyler

“Tyler suggests that the conventional story of why people cooperate—for material self-interest—is actually an impoverished account, and he carefully and cumulatively builds his case to demonstrate that cooperative behavior is caused more by social motives than self-interested ones. Providing new ways of thinking about the motivation to cooperate, this compelling book holds clear implications for organizational practice.”

The Litigation State

Public Regulation and Private Lawsuits in the United States

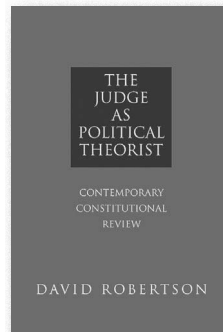

Sean Farhang

“Private enforcement of statutory provisions is an enormously significant aspect of our political system and economy, yet researchers have largely ignored this issue. This seminal and important book exhaustively analyzes the theory behind private enforcement and persuasively sets out the history of its intentional creation as a tool of regulation.”

The Judge as Political Theorist

Contemporary Constitutional Review

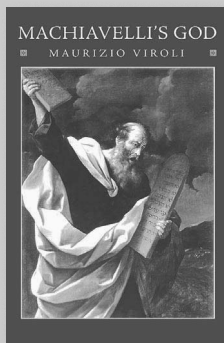

David Robertson

“This is a book by a political scientist that goes well beyond the political-science literature on constitutional courts and constitutional adjudication. Robertson sees new types of constitutions emerging that are not just legal documents structuring the political system, but are designed to give binding force to those values to which a society aspires, in most cases after a deep break in their history.”

Machiavelli's God

Maurizio Viroli

Translated by Antony Shugaar

To many readers of The Prince, Machiavelli appears to be deeply un-Christian or even anti-Christian, a cynic who thinks rulers should use religion only to keep their subjects in check. But in Machiavelli's God, Maurizio Viroli, one of the world's leading authorities on Machiavelli, argues that Machiavelli, far from opposing Christianity, thought it was crucial to republican social and political renewal—but that first it needed to be renewed itself.

Cloth $45.00 978-0-691-12414-8

A Political Philosophy in Public Life

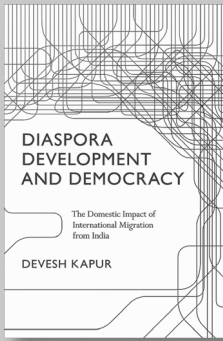

Civic Republicanism in Zapatero's Spain

José Luis Martí & Philip Pettit

“It is rare for the president of a major country to endorse the political philosophy of a living theorist, so Philip Pettit's engagement with Spain's José Luis Rodríguez Zapatero is something of a historical event. This book succeeds wonderfully, both as a document of an important act of public philosophy and as a philosophical work that furthers the development of republican political theory.”

The Fall and Rise of the Islamic State

Noah Feldman

“The growing clamor for a return to Sharia law in the Muslim world has often been met with alarm by the West. RETHINKING THE WESTERN TRADITION

Rethinking the Western Tradition seeks to address the present debate over the Western tradition by reprinting key texts of that tradition along with essays that evaluate each text from different political and literary perspectives.

The Federalist Papers

Alexander Hamilton, James Madison, and John Jay
Edited and with an Introduction
by Ian Shapiro

This authoritative edition of the complete texts of the Federalist Papers, Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and the Articles of the Confederation is accompanied by essays in which leading scholars provide historical context and thematic background.

“This edition revitalizes the importance of the Federalist Papers by speaking to debates in comparative law, normative political and democratic theory, feminism, and institutional design.”—Ran Hirschl, University of Toronto 2009 $20.00 paperback

AFFECTION AND TRUST

The Personal Correspondence of Harry S. Truman and Dean Acheson, 1953-1971
Edited by Dr. Ray Geselbracht and David C. Acheson
Introduction by David McCullough

“Just as the letters between Adams and Jefferson provide an intimate and historically rich view of the birth and early years of the Republic, so, too, does the post-Presidential correspondence between Truman and Acheson offer illuminating insights into the watershed years following World War II. At a time when America had emerged with strength and maturity into another vastly changed world, the candid views of these two old and mutually trusted friends on affairs of state and the personalities involved in them are invaluable sources of information.” —Dr. Henry Kissinger

A COUNTRY FOR ALL

An Immigrant Manifesto
by Jorge Ramos

For decades, fixing the United States’ broken immigration system has been one of the most urgent challenges facing our country. In this timely book, award-winning journalist Jorge Ramos argues that we have a simple choice: to take a pragmatic approach that deals with the reality of immigration, or to continue a cruel and capricious system that doesn’t work, wastes billions of dollars, and which stands in direct opposition to our national principles.

Civil Religion in Political Thought ITS PERENNIAL QUESTIONS AND ENDURING RELEVANCE IN NORTH AMERICA

EDITED BY RONALD WEED AND JOHN VON HEYKING

"The term 'civil religion' has become such an object of reflexive contempt among those who employ it that the term's analytical and descriptive purposes seem to have been forgotten. . . . There are good reasons to be profoundly wary of civil religion. But there are equally good reasons to be respectful of it. These essays are alive to both sets of reasons."—Wilfred M. McClay, University of Tennessee at Chattanooga

NEW FROM ZONE BOOKS

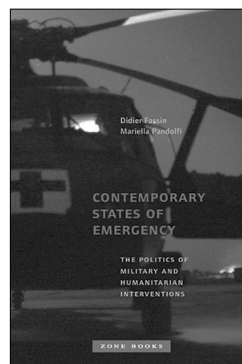

Walled States, Waning Sovereignty

BY WENDY BROWN

Why, just two decades after international celebrations of the fall of the Berlin Wall, are so many nation-states building walls and barriers? Walled States, Waning Sovereignty considers the recent spate of wall building through the problematic of eroded state sovereignty amidst globalization. It considers both issues of state legitimacy and the popular desires that incite wall building, and identifies the theatrical and theological aspects of walling in the face of its functional limitations.

Contemporary States of Emergency The Politics of Military and Humanitarian Interventions

EDITED BY DIDIER FASSIN
AND MARIELLA PANDOLFI

From natural disaster areas to zones of conflict around the world, a new logic combining humanitarian and military intervention has emerged. Drawing on the critical insights of anthropologists, legal scholars, and political scientists, this book examines the historical, moral, juridical, ideological, and economic conditions that have made such interventions possible today.

THE WALTER H. SHORENSTEIN
ASIA-PACIFIC RESEARCH CENTER

STANFORD UNIVERSITY ANNOUNCES

THE 2011–2012 WALTER H. SHORENSTEIN FELLOWSHIPS

FELLOWSHIPS IN CONTEMPORARY ASIA-PACIFIC STUDIES FOR JUNIOR SCHOLARS

The Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies announces its 2011-2012 Walter H. Shorenstein Fellowships. Made possible through the generosity of Walter H. Shorenstein, awards will be made to two junior scholars (recent Ph.D.s must have degree conferral by August 31, 2011) for research and writing on Asia.

The primary focus of the program is contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region (including Northeast, Southeast, and South Asia), or topics in international relations and international political economy. Fellows must be in residence for at least three academic quarters, beginning the fall quarter of the 2011 academic year. Fellows take part in center activities throughout the academic year, and are required to present their research findings in center seminars. Fellows also participate in the center's publication program. Fellows receive a stipend of $42,000, plus $2,500 for research materials.

Applicants should submit: (1) a brief research statement (not to exceed five typed pages), which describes the research and writing to be undertaken during the fellowship period as well as the proposed publishable product; (2) curriculum vitae; and (3) three letters of recommendation.

DEADLINE FOR RECEIPT OF ALL MATERIALS IS DECEMBER 18, 2010.

Address all materials and queries to Ms. Victoria Kwong, The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center, Encina Hall East 301, Stanford University, Stanford, CA 94305-6055, vckwong@stanford.edu.

BATTLE OVER THE BENCH Senators, Interest Groups, and Lower Court Confirmations

AMY STEIGERWALT

"Battle over the Bench represents valuable research about an important and timely topic—the confirmation by the United States Senate of presidential nominations to the lower federal courts and why it matters. There are numerous important findings, and Steigerwalt's book is, in my judgment, the most theoretically sophisticated book on lower court confirmations. She succeeds admirably in her goals. This is unquestionably a major addition to the literature."

MERELY JUDGMENT

Ignoring, Evading, and Trumping the Supreme Court

MARTIN J. SWEET

"Merely Judgment provides an interesting examination of how 'unconstitutional' legislation survives as public policy even after adverse Supreme Court rulings that would seem to mark the end to such policies. It provides a set of richly detailed case studies of the adoption and implementation of affirmative action programs in government contracting that provide a valuable perspective on important issues in judicial compliance, judicial review, and constitutional law."—Keith E. ALMANAC OF VIRGINIA POLITICS 2010

Edited by TONI-MICHELLE C. TRAVIS

Published since 1977 and updated every two years, the Almanac of Virginia Politics is the leading source of information on the legislative process and key players in Virginia government. The 2010 volume covers the 2009 elections and is invaluable for those tracking the changing demographics that are bringing about ongoing shifts in Virginia's political leanings. The Almanac includes biographies of all members of the General Assembly, contact information for each, descriptions of their districts, election returns, and voting records, as well as a photograph of the member, all presented in an easily accessible format.

NEW IN PAPERBACK

When Gay People Get Married

What Happens When Societies Legalize Same-Sex Marriage

M. V. LEE BADGETT

"Badgett's cogent and comprehensive study of the societal implications of same-sex marriage is learned and persuasive; gays and lesbians who once again pick up their protest signs and banners might do well to bring along Badgett's book as well."

—Publishers Weekly

$22.00 paper / 25 illustrations

When Governments Break the Law

The Rule of Law and the Prosecution of the Bush Administration

EDITED BY AUSTIN SARAT AND NASSER HUSSAIN

"While we think of the crimes of the Bush-Cheney administration as lying somewhere in the past, the aggressive wars, warrantless spying, lawless imprisonment, and torture continue. This collection looks deeply into one likely way to end these crimes, namely enforcing the laws against them. Included are serious and informed voices both for and against prosecution."

—David Swanson, author of Daybreak

The Price of Progressive Politics

The Welfare Rights Movement in an Era of Colorblind Racism

ROSE ERNST

"In this important and courageous book, Rose Ernst shows how the discourse of colorblindness limits the progressive possibilities of the welfare rights movement . . . Bravo for a job well done!"

—Eduardo Bonilla-Silva, author of Racism Without Racists

$22.00 paper / 6 figures, 10 tables

FORTHCOMING

Habeas Corpus after 9/11

JONATHAN HAFETZ

Habeas Corpus after 9/11 examines the rise of the U.S.-run global detention system that emerged after 9/11 and the efforts to challenge it through habeas corpus. Habeas expert and litigator Jonathan Hafetz gives us an insider's view of the detention of "enemy combatants" and an accessible explanation of the complex forces that keep these systems running.

Biopolitics

An Advanced Introduction

THOMAS LEMKE

"Biopolitics" has been linked to everything from rational decision-making and the organization of social life to eugenics and racism. Here, Lemke offers a systematic overview of biopolitics, exploring its relevance in contemporary theoretical debates and providing a much needed primer on the topic.

$20.00 paper / February 2011

Biopolitics, Medicine, Technoscience,
and Health in the Twenty-First Century Series

America's Death Penalty

Between Past and Present

EDITED BY DAVID GARLAND, RANDALL MCGOWEN, AND MICHAEL MERANZE

Examines the historical and theoretical assumptions that have underpinned the discussion of capital punishment in the United States today. This volume represents an effort to restore the sense of capital punishment as a question caught up in history.

$22.00 paper / 6 figures / January 2011

The United States and Torture

Interrogation, Incarceration, and Abuse

EDITED BY MARJORIE COHN

"Accountability is the first step in healing as a nation. The last line of the final chapter says it all: 'Let us begin.' Indeed, we must."

—Janis L. Karpinski, former Brigadier General, U.S. Army, and author of One Woman's Army: The Commanding General of Abu Ghraib Tells Her Story
