

CONTENTS

|   | Page |
|---|-------------|
| A. G. SEIDOV. Some problems relating to the mineralogy of sediments   | 329         |
| L. R. MOORE. The in situ formation and development of some kaolinite macrocrystals   | 338         |
| P. BAYLISS and F. C. LOUGHNAN. Mineralogical transformations accompanying the chemical weathering of clay-slates from New South Wales | 353         |
| BIBHUTI MUKHERJEE. Clay minerals in argillaceous sediments of the Himalayan zone  | 363         |
| R. GLENTWORTH, W. A. MITCHELL and B. D. MITCHELL. The red glacial drift deposits of north-east Scotland                               | 373         |
| J. A. DRENNAN. An unusual occurrence of chamosite   | 382         |
| R. GREENE-KELLY. The specific surface areas of montmorillonites   | 392         |
| J. L. MARTIN VIVALDI, F. GIRELA VILCHEZ and P. FENOLL HACH-ALI. The thermal decomposition of $\text{NH}_4$ -montmorillonites. Part II | 401         |
| Book Reviews  | 407         |
| Notes and News  | 410         |