Masters of Bedlam

The Transformation of the Mad-Doctoring Trade

Andrew Scull, Charlotte MacKenzie, and Nicholas Hervey

"This book is a triumph of biography, written by three accomplished historians of psychiatry. Individual chapters represent insightful and elegantly presented accounts of prominent alienists, based on meticulous research, judiciously chosen quotations, and an attention to detail and context."

—The Times Literary Supplement

"An elegantly written work, which is exhaustively referenced, indicating scholarship of an impressive standard. It contains all the essential information about those early figures of British psychiatry."

—The Times Higher Education Supplement

Paper £13.95 ISBN 0-691-00251-7 Due January

Matters of Life and Death

Perspectives on Public Health, Molecular Biology, Cancer, and the Prospects for the Human Race

John Cairns

"Here we have a collection of beautifully written, reflective essays. . . . Cairns's writing is a fine example of how science can be presented to the general reader . . . and why writing of this kind can be of equal interest to fellow scientists, reflecting as it does a remarkable imagination and intellect."

—The Times Higher Education Supplement

"[A]s a general overview of factors influencing the survival of human beings considered both as members of a population and as organisms comprised of living cells, Cairns' unusual perspective and historical approach are most rewarding."
