Perception & Psychophysics, one of the most prestigious of the six journals published by the Psychonomic Society in the field of experimental psychology, deals primarily with sensory processes, perception, and psychophysics in studies that employ either human or animal subjects. Most articles published in the journal are reports of experimental investigations in these areas, but articles that are primarily theoretical are included as well, as are integrative and evaluative reviews.

RECENT ARTICLES include:

- "Interference with McCollough Effects via Pre- and Postinduction Exposure to Achromatic Gratings: Time Course and Magnitude of Aftereffect Decrement" by Diane Skowbo
- "An Investigation of the Equiratio-Mixture Model in Olfactory Psychophysics: A Case Study" by Franc T. Schiet and Jan E. R. Frijters
- "Experimental Demonstration of the Sensory Basis of the Size-Weight Illusion" by Sergio Cesare Masin and Loredana Crestoni
- "Subitizing: Direct Apprehension or Serial Processing?" by Charles L. Folk, Howard Egeth, and Ho-Wan Kwak
- "Facilitation and Interference with a Separable Redundant Dimension in Stimulus Comparison" by W. R. Garner
- "Are Letter Codes Always Activated" by Seth N. Greenberg
- "Masking the Motions of Human Gait" by James E. Cutting, Cassandra Moore, and Roger Morrison

- "'Ratios' and 'Differences' in Perceived Sweetness Intensity" by Cees De Graaf and Jan E. R. Frijters
- "Separating Visible Persistence from Retinal Afterimages" by Vincent Di Lollo, Craig D. Clark, and John H. Hogben
- "Familiarity and Visual Change Detection" by Harold Pashler
