Law and American History

NEW FROM CHICAGO

INTERRACIAL INTIMACY

The Regulation of Race and Romance
Rachel F. Moran

"Timely and important, Interracial Intimacy will be an excellent reference book, as well as a potential spark for public discussion about the places of race, love, and family in contemporary law and society."

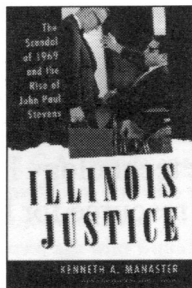

—Martha L. Minow, Harvard Law School
CLOTH $30.00

FREE TO DIE FOR THEIR COUNTRY

The Story of the Japanese American Draft Resisters in World War II
Eric L. Muller

"In a beautifully written, gripping account, Eric Muller tells the astonishing and little-known story of how . . . the United States government herded Japanese American citizens into concentration camps, then ordered them to report for induction into the armed services in World War II, and, when they resisted, threw them into prison. It is an appalling tale, but Muller shows that, from the perspective of the law, it is not so easy to sort good from evil."

—William E. Leuchtenburg, author of In the Shadow of F.D.R.: From Harry Truman to Bill Clinton
CLOTH $27.50

ILLINOIS JUSTICE

The Scandal of 1969 and the Rise of John Paul Stevens
Kenneth A. Manaster

"While Illinois had its share of political scandals, this one has all the elements necessary for high drama. Manaster is in an ideal position to identify and probe fully all of the available sources for this sordid, but fascinating, chapter in Illinois political and legal history. Illinois Justice is a story tautly told, and one worth telling."

—Abner J. Mikva, retired chief judge, U.S. Court of Appeals, D.C. Circuit
CLOTH $30.00

THE CONSTITUTION IN CONGRESS

The Jeffersonians, 1801–1829
David P. Currie

"[David Currie's] prose style easily engages the reader in the constitutional questions debated by the Jeffersonian Congresses. . . . It's a marvelous achievement that certainly will be must reading for law professors, constitutional historians, and historians of the Early Republic."—Alan Rogers, Boston College

Law and Colonial Cultures

Legal Regimes in World History,
1400-1900

Lauren Benton

This book advances a new perspective in world history, arguing that institutions and culture—and not just the global economy—serve as important elements of international order.

Crafting Law on the Supreme Court

The Collegial Game

Forrest Maltzman, James F. Spriggs II,
and Paul J. Wahlbeck

"In this pathbreaking study, Maltzman, Spriggs, and Wahlbeck unravel the mysteries of strategic behavior inside the Supreme Court—how Justices engage in instrumental behavior to achieve case outcomes consistent with their doctrinal and policy perspectives."

J.G.A. Pocock

"...one admires the breadth of his erudition. Indeed, like Gibbon, [J.G.A. Pocock] is a truly enlightened historian, one who takes ideas seriously and who has no patience for those of our own age who would 'deny the reality of authors and the readability of texts.'"

Final Freedom

The Civil War, the Abolition of Slavery, and the Thirteenth Amendment

Michael Vorenberg

"Final Freedom demonstrates that the Thirteenth Amendment was not an automatic sequel to the Emancipation Proclamation or an inevitable means of abolishing slavery. Instead, the Amendment's language, function, and meaning were contested. The story of its enactment and ratification, so well told here, is important and fascinating."

American Society for Legal History

ORGANIZATION AND MEMBERSHIP

The American Society for Legal History is a nonprofit membership organization dedicated to fostering scholarship, teaching, and study concerning the law and institutions of all legal systems, both Anglo-American and international. Founded in 1956, the Society sponsors this journal and Studies in Legal History, a series of book-length monographs available to ASLH members at substantial prepublication discounts. In addition, the Society holds an annual meeting to promote scholarship and interaction among teachers, practitioners, and students interested in legal history, and publishes a semiannual newsletter reporting developments in the field. For further information concerning the Society, please write: Walter F. Pratt, Jr., Notre Dame Law School, P.O. Box R, Notre Dame, IN 46556-0780.
