Asking The Right Questions

Church and Ministry

DR. F. R. BARRY, Bishop of Southwell

Unquestionably Dr F. R. Barry's most important work since The Relevance of Christianity. This is a searching, probing and very constructive book on the changes necessary in the selection and training of Anglican clergy if the Church is to fulfil its task in the modern world. Dr Barry's thought has also been stimulated by personal contacts with Anglicans who have been trying fresh approaches to this problem in the Commonwealth. He is uncompromisingly honest in his exposure of the weaknesses of the ministry and its preparatory training, but his criticisms are plainly inspired by loving concern for the Church. The whole discussion is deeply sincere and serious, yet it is always lively and often witty; intellectually stimulating, morally challenging, it is a call to think clearly and act fearlessly.

The Glimmering Landscape

DR. CHARLES L. WARR

The Minister of St. Giles', Edinburgh, looks back and remembers it all. 'Here is a volume of autobiography at its best. . . . It provides a picture of a momentous half-century of Scottish history, and at the same time the self-portrait of a distinguished, honoured and lovable churchman.' REV. DR NEVILLE DAVIDSON, Glasgow Herald

STUDIES OF THE SPANISH MYSTICS

E. Allison Peers

32s. 6d. net

Volume 3

'Its publication now completes a study which, among English scholars, Professor Peers had made specially his own. . . . A full biography adds to the value of a book that will be indispensable alike for the student of Spanish literature and the history of mysticism.' Blackfriars The set of 3 volumes, 90s net.

GOD IN US

M. L. Yates

9s. 6d. net

The theory and practice of Christian devotion. These lectures were prepared for American theological students, but they have a universal appeal for Dr Yates is speaking of the deep and abiding realities of the Christian's life in God, and the presence of God in man. They have their appeal to the layman for the language is simple.

HISTORY AND CHRISTIAN APOLOGETIC

T. A. Roberts

25s. net

'A very carefully considered inquiry into the credentials of the historical claims of Christianity. It accepts the challenge that if Christianity is to retain its historical roots, the question—Is the Gospel true?—must be answered initially of the techniques and methods of historical criticism.' British Weekly

ON THE AUTHORITY OF THE BIBLE

8s. 6d. net

The first of a series of collections of essays, some new and some reprinted from periodicals, on subjects connected with the study of the Bible. The present volume contains articles by Leonard Hodgson, C. F. Evans, J. Burnaby, Gerhard Ebeling, and D. E. Nineham on various aspects of the question of the authority of the Bible.

DOCUMENTS OF THE BAPTISMAL LITURGY

E. C. Whitaker

30s. net

In view of the increasing interest in Christian initiation, Mr Whitaker has compiled this collection of documents in translation to illustrate the baptismal practice of the early Church. Each document is prefaced by a short introduction, and the whole forms a most valuable source-book on baptism in the patristic period.

BLACK'S NEW TESTAMENT COMMENTARIES

General Editor: HENRY CHADWICK, M.A., D.D.

Regius Professor of Divinity, Oxford

Of moderate size, yet full enough for serious study, these new commentaries should promote consideration of the respective books as great religious documents and as the primary sources of Christian doctrine.

'If the remaining commentaries in Black's new series of New Testament Commentaries maintain this standard, they will take pride of place in the 20th century.' C. OF E. NEWSPAPER.

First titles:

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. LUKE

A. R. C. LEANEY, M.A., B.D.

Lecturer in Christian Theology, University of Nottingham

'Excellent, it will both satisfy scholars and edify the general reader. A first-rate contribution to sound Anglican theology.' CHURCH TIMES. 25s. net

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES

C. S. C. WILLIAMS, M.A.

A NEW MIND FOR A NEW AGE

By ALAN WALKER, M.A., Ph.D.

10s. 6d. net

A new age is here—an age of satellites, electronics, and hydrogen bombs—thrusting us closer to our distant neighbours and creating revolutionary new pressures all around us. Each of us must come to terms with the new age, either by yielding to its pressures, or seizing the new opportunities it offers.

THE CHRISTIAN REPLIES

Edited by LESLIE DAVISON

2s. 6d. net

In this, a group of Christian scholars, each expert in his own field, answer questions about Christianity. Many of them centre on the existence and nature of God, and on the Person of Christ, the meaning of His death and resurrection.

THE PROMISE OF THE SPIRIT

By WILLIAM BARCLAY Paper covers, 5s. net; boards, 7s. 6d.

The purpose of this book is to collect what the Bible actually says about the Holy Spirit. Jesus commanded His disciples not to begin their task until they had received the Spirit.

HOW CHURCHES GROW

The New Frontiers of Mission

by

DONALD MCGAVRAN

Dr Hendrick Kraemer writes:

This is an excellent and much needed book. It will be of great use in the overhauling which missionary strategy must receive. This approach will, of course, evoke many new problems but the emphasis on a more spontaneous, mobile way of evangelism is greatly needed.

The Holy Communion in the Reformed Church of Scotland 1560-1960

GEORGE B. BURNET, M.A., Ph.D.

Formerly Minister of Corsock

This scholarly work is described by the author as 'an outline history of the externals of the Holy Communion in Scotland during the last four centuries'. Dr Burnet's deep knowledge of Scottish Church history and his long research have resulted in a book of major importance which touches upon issues which have been and still are highly controversial. This work, the first of its kind, appears most opportunely on the eve of the Quartercentenary of the Scottish Reformation. Price 25s
