The Documentary Record of United States Foreign Policy

Foreign Policy Bulletin

Editor:

Jack Goldstone

George Mason University, USA

Foreign Policy Bulletin aims to be the leading reference periodical for primary source documentation in American foreign policy and international affairs, by providing a timely, systematic record of United States foreign policy. Unaffiliated with any government institution, this unique quarterly brings together major speeches, statements, public reports, and public remarks from U.S. officials; excerpts from Congressional debates; and relevant texts and reports from international organizations.

Foreign Policy Bulletin Digital Archive 1990-2004

- is a repository of every single article published in the journal between 1990 and 2004, reproduced as high-resolution, searchable PDFs
- is available as part of Cambridge Journals Digital Archive

About APSA

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 15,000 members in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to expand awareness and understanding of politics.

The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing three distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, and PS: Political Science and Politics.
