Philosophical Studies

An International Journal for Philosophy in the Analytic Tradition

Editor: KEITH LEHRER

Philosophical Studies, a journal devoted to work in analytic philosophy, publishes articles in all general areas of philosophical investigation, philosophy of science, epistemology, metaphysics, ethics, and so forth, including the history of philosophy. The main criterion of articles published is that they contain rigorous argumentation and precise analysis of key concepts. Articles in the journal are intelligible to philosophers whose expertise lies outside the subject matter of the article. It is intended that a diligent reader of the journal will be kept informed of the major problems and contributions of contemporary analytic philosophy.

Subscription Information: 1979, volumes 35-36 (eight issues). Private rate: Dfl. 40,- / US $ approx. 18.50 per volume. Institutional rate: Dfl. 118,50 / US $ approx. 57.00 per volume. Prices include postage and handling. Private subscriptions should be sent direct to the publishers.

Associate Editors
Thomas Nagel, Thomas Scanlon

... is designed to fill the need for a periodical in which philosophers with different viewpoints and philosophically inclined writers from various disciplines—including law, political science, economics, and sociology—can bring their distinctive methods to bear on problems of public concern.

"Ethicists worry about real-life issues rather than concepts and publish along with lawyers in Philosophy & Public Affairs which ... has become the leading journal in moral philosophy."

THE INDEPENDENT JOURNAL OF PHILOSOPHY UNABHÄNGIGE ZEITSCHRIFT FÜR PHILOSOPHIE

Editorial Statement: The Independent Journal of Philosophy provides an international forum for the exploration of responsible, articulate alternatives to the positivist, Marxist, and narrowly academicist trends that characterize much of present-day philosophy. Although not aligned with any particular school or movement, it takes its general philosophical bearings by the Platonic-Aristotelean conceptions of 'reason,' 'wisdom,' and 'intuitable form,' and the classical-humanistic moral and political tradition. While not insensitive to the nihilistic implications of the historicism, relativism, and irrationalism stemming from aspects of modern philosophy, it is interested in dialogue with especially the idealist, phenomenological, and existentialist traditions. It welcomes broadly relevant, problem-oriented contributions (including essays, replies, book reviews, translations, dialogues, aphorisms, and philosophical analyses of works of literature and art) in all major areas of philosophy, and particularly in areas announced as special themes for future issues. While most of its material is written in English, it also publishes work in French and German.

EDITED BY: GEORGE ELLIOTT TUCKER

Future Issues (theme articles occupy only a section of each issue): Vol. III, 1979. Hegel Today | Vol. IV, 1980. Modernity | Vol. V, 1981. Historicism.

THE INDEPENDENT JOURNAL OF PHILOSOPHY publishes one issue per year in extra large format of approximately 140 pages. Papers should be received by 1 October of the year before the issue in question appears (e.g., 1 October 1979 for Vol. IV). Further details about the themes to be treated, as well as suggestions for other articles, may be obtained from the general editor. Subscriptions (one volume) are available for oS 300,-/ DM 50,-/ US $18.00 to institutions and libraries; oS 210,-/DM 30,-/US $12.00 to individuals; and oS 150,-/ DM 22,-/ US $8.50 to students and unemployed philosophers. Back issues cost the respective volume price.
