MISCELLANEOUS.

Vernet, Dr. A.—A Case of Tubercular Meningitis cured by injecting Beranech Tuberculin. “Revue Medicale de la Suisse Romande,” July 20, 1907.

The case briefly is as follows: A child, aged four, suffering from tubercular meningitis was considered hopeless. The symptoms were grave, one specially noted being “the characteristic odour of mice,” often found in severe cases of this disease.

The tuberculin was injected for eight days, a dose each day, and the child became so well that she was removed to the seaside. A relapse ensued as severe as the original disease, and to show the value of the tuberculin, as soon as it was used the child improved and was soon well.

REVIEW.

Nisbet's Medical Directory.

We have received a copy of the first issue of “Nisbet's Medical Directory”—a handy volume of 789 pages, light, portable, well printed, and well bound, and suitable for the table of every medical practitioner. It contains the names, addresses, qualifications, telephone numbers, of every medical man, arranged in alphabetical order. The work also contains a note of any important work which the practitioner may have written or been engaged in. The price at which it is published (7s. 6d.) is by no means prohibitive. We have applied the usual tests as regards accuracy to this volume, and it has responded accurately to every one. The second part of the volume contains a local directory, in which the names of medical men are given under the names of places where they are resident. One has only to know the village, town, district, or country abroad, to be able to ascertain at a single glance the names of every practitioner practising there. The whole book is arranged with a view to handiness, and cannot fail to be of great service to those whose duties lead them into correspondence with medical men in various parts of the country and the globe.
