TEMPORAL BONE SURGICAL DISSECTION COURSES

OFFERED BY

THE DEPARTMENT OF OTORHINOLARYNGOLOGY

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN MEDICAL SCHOOL, ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN

MALCOLM D. GRAHAM, M.D.—COURSE DIRECTOR

OCTOBER 13–17, 1980 DECEMBER 1–5, 1980

These Courses will be given in the new Temporal Bone Surgical Dissection Laboratory of the Department of Otorhinolaryngology and the Kresge Hearing Research Institute of the University of Michigan.

These intensive one week courses will emphasize the surgical and anatomical approaches to the temporal bone and will be presented in a manner relevant for the otologic surgeon, utilizing lectures and videotape presentations of surgical techniques, as well as temporal bone dissection.

Both mornings and afternoons will be spent in the dissection laboratory, thereby giving extensive drilling experience in both temporal bone anatomy and surgical techniques. Lectures and demonstrations will be provided by members of the faculty of the Department of Otorhinolaryngology and Kresge Hearing Research Institute, thereby uniquely blending basic science and clinical otologic instruction. Drill handpieces and dissection instruments will be provided.

The fee for these courses will be $1,000.00 for each physician.

International guests include Doctors Paparella, Sheehy, Palva, Plester, Fisch, Pfaltz, Portmann, Sanna and others.

Chairman: F. Ibrashi, M.D.

For further information, write to Dr. A. Belal, M.D., Alexandria School of Medicine, Alexandria, Egypt.

TEMPORAL BONE SURGICAL DISSECTION COURSE

The Ear Research Institute, in cooperation with the University of Southern California, announces a two-week Temporal Bone Surgical Dissection Course demonstrating the multiple approaches to the structures of the temporal bone as currently used by members of the Otologic Medical Group, Inc.

Each day the course members spend four hours in the dissection laboratory and four hours observing live color telecasts of surgery. Evenings are devoted to lectures illustrated by slides and motion picture demonstrations. Video tapes in color from the Institute's Otologic Seminar Library are available for study by course participants.

Twenty-four board certified or board eligible otolaryngologists and residents will be accepted in each course. Courses will be presented in March, April, October and November annually. Advance registrations for courses in 1981 and 1982 are now being accepted. The tuition fee for otolaryngologists is $1,200 and for residents $900 in United States currency. Applications from residents must be accompanied by a letter from their Chief of Service.

For further information address communications to: Antonio De La Cruz, M.D., Director, Temporal Bone Surgical Dissection Course, Ear Research Institute, 256 South Lake Street, Los Angeles, CA 90057.
