Notes to Contributors to Africa

Contributions are welcomed and should be addressed to the Editor. Contributors receive twenty-five free copies of articles published: further copies can be supplied at cost price on request.

Where possible, proofs are submitted to authors for correction but it is requested that only essential corrections are made; additional matter cannot be inserted at proof stage. The Editor reserves the right to make any corrections or alterations he may deem necessary.

Articles should be typed in double spacing, on one side of the paper only. African or other foreign words should be underlined (not in inverted commas). For African vernacular words the orthography of the International African Institute should be followed.

Articles should where possible be divided by suitable headings and sub-headings. Paragraphs should not be numbered. Contributors are invited to add a summary to their articles.

THE WEST AFRICAN COUNCILLOR

By I. D. CAMERON and B. K. COOPER

Price in the U.K. 7s. 6d. net

This book provides information of practical value to the council member and to all those interested in the administration of their local affairs. In it the authors have set out simply and clearly the main principles of modern local government in West Africa.

There are chapters on The Development of Local Government, its Structure, its Finance, and its Elections, and on the relationship of local authorities to development Committees. A final chapter on 'The Future' gives advice about town planning, welfare services, &c., and suggests that the process of local government reform, both political and social, must be thought of as continuous. There is an index and a glossary of technical terms.
