

MC LEOD, Richard (Shippensburg State College)
The Philadelphia Working Class, 1790-1850. (In progress.)

MILLER, Sally M. (University of the Pacific)
"Milwaukee: Of Ethnicity and Labor," Socialism and the Cities, ed. by Bruce M. Stave, (Kennikat, 1975). A book of six essays, each of which deals with an American city under a socialist administration.

Quantification in German Studies will hold its third session on Sunday, December 28, 1975 at 7:00 p.m. in Tara Room 3 of the Marriott Motor Hotel, Atlanta, Georgia. The program includes a paper by Professor Brian Peterson (Florida International University) on "Ecological Analysis of German Working Class Voting in December 1924." For further information contact Arnold H. Price, 3816 Calvert Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20007.

Comparative Labor History: Professors Thomas Moodie and Michael Ebner are teaching an undergraduate course in this area and would like to recruit a few guest speakers for the months of January and February 1976. Anyone interested should contact them at the Department of History, Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill. 60045.

The Mid-Atlantic Radical Historians Organization is currently planning its third Spring Conference to be held sometime in March or April 1976 in New York City. The theme of the conference is "The Great Depression and the Left." A number of panels and workshops plus two general sessions are planned. Papers are invited that explore the relationship between the crisis of capitalism, as exhibited by the worldwide depression of the 1930s, and the actions of the left in political, economic, social and cultural terms. Individuals interested in further details or presenting a paper should contact Liborio Campisi, 1535 Benson Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11228.

A panel discussion is being organized for the 1976 AHA meeting on Social Democracy in Crisis, 1930-1940. Anyone working on the socialist parties of Britain, Denmark, Holland, Sweden or the SOPADE/Neu Beginnen and interested in participating please contact Helmut Gruber, Polytechnic Institute of New York, 333 Jay St., Brooklyn, N.Y. 11201.

The Interuniversity Centre for European Studies is sponsoring an International Colloquium during March, 1976 in Montreal on the theme Revolutionary Situations in Europe, 1917-1922: Germany, Italy, Austria-Hungary. Interested scholars should write Professor Charles Bertrand, Pavillon Riverin 6410, C.P.8888, Montreal. The Centre has also announced a workshop on Proletarian Ideologies and their Transformation in the European National Contexts, 1800 - present. For further information contact Professor Arpi Hamalian, Department of Education, Concordia University, SGW Campus, Montreal.

The Southern Labor Archives of Georgia State University (Atlanta, GA 30303) collects, preserves, and makes available for research the documentary heritage of organized labor, particularly of the trade union movement in the South. Endorsed by the Georgia and Florida AFL-CIOs, the Archives receive files of labor organizations, from local bodies to international unions, as well as papers of labor leaders and union members. The collections are open to qualified researchers in all disciplines and inquiries are welcome.

SIGNS. Journal of Women in Culture and Society recently began publication at the University of Chicago Press. Edited by Catharine R. Simpson (Barnard College) and published quarterly, SIGNS' purpose is to provide a forum for the new research, theory and criticism that the study of women, culture and society is producing. For information concerning subscriptions contact the University of Chicago Press, 11030 Langley Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60628. Manuscripts should be submitted to The Editor, SIGNS, Box 20, 307 Barnard Hall, Barnard College, New York, N.Y. 10027.