International Journal of Law in Context

A global forum for interdisciplinary legal studies

The International Journal of Law in Context now features an exciting new section entitled 'Law in other contexts'. This section is dedicated to making available specially commissioned reports of socio-legal research in places where English is not the first language. In this way the journal hopes to bring attention to work which may not be easily accessible to those without knowledge of the relevant language (and culture).

Interesting New Titles from Hart Publishing

Self-Determination, Statehood, and the Law of Negotiation

The Case of Palestine
Robert P Barnidge, Jr

This monograph seeks to advance our understanding of the international law of negotiation and use this as a framework for assessing the Israeli–Palestinian dispute, with the Palestinian people’s unsuccessful attempt to join the United Nations as a Member State in autumn 2011 and the successful attempt to join the same institution as a non-Member Observer State in November 2012 providing a case study for this. This work fills a significant gap in the existing international law scholarship on the Israeli–Palestinian dispute, which neither engages with this means of dispute settlement generally nor does so specifically within the context of the Palestinian people’s engagements with international institutions.

Robert P Barnidge, Jr is Lecturer and Coordinator of International Relations in the Department of History, Politics, and International Relations at Webster University.

2ND EDITION

The International Law of the Sea Donald R Rothwell and Tim Stephens

The law of the sea provides for the regulation, management and governance of the ocean spaces that cover over two-thirds of the Earth’s surface. The new edition of this popular textbook provides a fresh explanation of the foundational principles of the law of the sea, a critical overview of the 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea and an analysis of subsequent developments including the many bilateral, regional and global agreements that supplement the Convention.

Donald R Rothwell is Professor of International Law at the Australian National University, Canberra.

Tim Stephens is Professor of International Law at the University of Sydney.

Access to Justice

Beyond the Policies and Politics of Austerity
Edited by Ellie Palmer, Tom Cornford, Audrey Guinchard and Yseult Marique

Building on a series of ESRC funded seminars, this edited collection of expert papers by academics and practitioners is concerned with access to civil and administrative justice in constitutional democracies, where, for the past decade, governments have reassessed their priorities for funding legal services: embracing ‘new technologies’ that reconfigure the delivery and very concept of legal services; cutting legal aid budgets; and introducing putative cost-cutting measures for the administration of courts, tribunals and established systems for the delivery of legal advice and assistance.

Ellie Palmer is a Professor of Law and Tom Cornford, Audrey Guinchard and Yseult Marique are Senior Lecturers in Law, all at the University of Essex.

Lawyers and Mediators

The Brave New World of Services for Separating Families
Mavis Maclean and John Eekelaar

This book describes the structure of service provision and the day-to-day work of lawyers, mediators, and lawyer mediators, drawing on empirical work carried out between 2013 and 2015 immediately after the recent changes to the management of divorce and separation within the family justice system. The reduction in legal aided help in 2013 and the failure of mediation to fill the gap in 2014–15 have given rise to a difficult debate. This book aims to provide an account of some of the practical effects of these policies through a description of the daily work of practitioners in the sector.

Mavis Maclean is co-founder and John Eekelaar is co-director, both at the Oxford Centre for Family Law and Policy, Oxford University.

Journal of African Law

Published for SOAS, University of London

The Journal of African Law has been in existence for over 55 years and in that time has followed changing trends in law and legal reform. The earlier focus on legal pluralism and customary law has evolved to include a focus on issues of international law, post conflict resolution, constitutionalism and commercial law.

In recent years the journal has published articles on the Sharia debate in Nigeria, the new constitutional dispensation in Southern Sudan and case notes including on the rights of indigenous peoples under the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights. The Journal welcomes articles on all legal issues pertaining to the African continent in its entirety.

Health Economics, Policy and Law

Published in association with LSE Health

Editors

Adam Oliver, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK
Elias Mossialos, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

International trends highlight the confluence of economics, politics and legal considerations in the health policy process. Health Economics, Policy and Law (HEPL) provides a forum for inter-disciplinary health policy studies, and will be of use to academics, policy makers, health care managers and professionals. HEPL is international in scope, publishing both theoretical and applied work, with articles on all aspects of health policy. HEPL is particularly interested in publishing innovative ideas that promise to contribute to improving health and healthcare policy. Considerable emphasis is placed on rigorous conceptual development and analysis, and on the presentation of empirical evidence that is relevant to the policy process. Review articles and debate sections bring readers in touch with current research developments and issues.

International Review of the Red Cross

Published for the International Committee of the Red Cross

Editor-in-Chief

Vincent Bernard, The International Committee of the Red Cross,

Editor

Mariya Nikolova, The International Committee of the Red Cross,

The International Review of the Red Cross promotes reflection on humanitarian law, policy and action in armed conflict and other situations of collective armed violence. A specialized journal in humanitarian law, it endeavours to promote knowledge, critical analysis and development of the law and to contribute to the prevention of violations of rules protecting fundamental rights and values. The Review offers a forum for discussion about contemporary humanitarian action as well as analysis of the causes and characteristics of conflicts so as to give a clearer insight into the humanitarian problems they generate. Finally, the Review informs its readership on questions pertaining to the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement and in particular on the activities and policies of the Red Cross.
